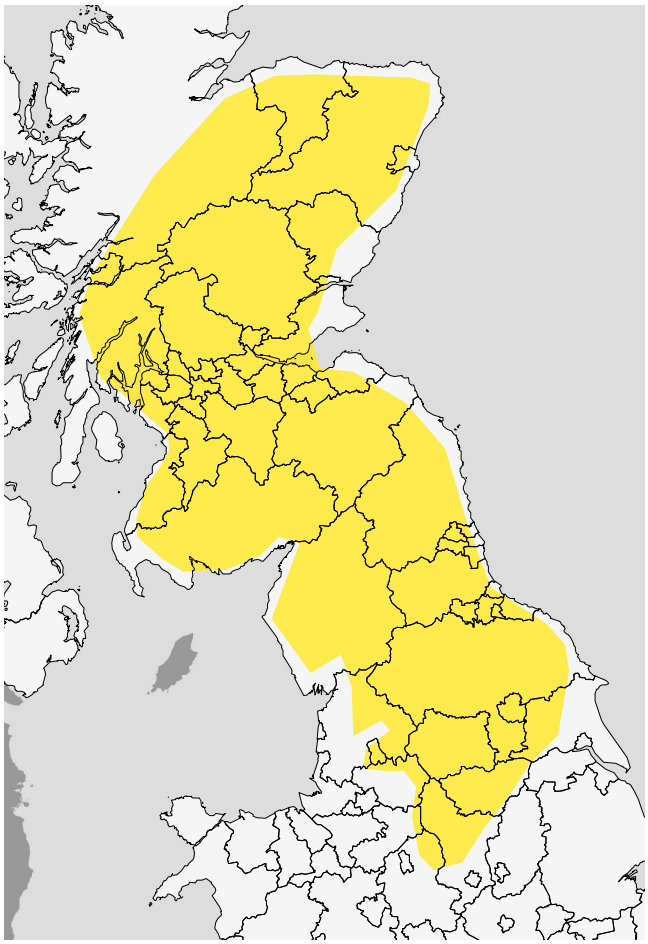
Yellow warning
Snow & Ice

Between
18:00 Sat 11 Mar 2023 and
06:00 Sun 12 Mar 2023



Further snowfall has the potential to cause disruption Saturday evening into Sunday.

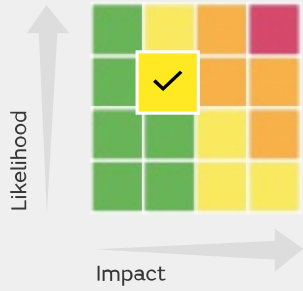
What to expect

- Some roads and railways likely to be affected with longer journey times by road, bus and train services
- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths

Further details

A band of rain, sleet and snow is expected to move northeastwards on Saturday evening, persisting for part of Saturday night then clearing the north of the warning area on Sunday morning. The bulk of the snow accumulations likely to be confined to elevations above 200 m, with 1-3 cm possible, whilst 5-10 cm fresh snow is possible above 400 m.

Snow is likely to turn to rain before it clears, bringing the onset of thaw, although, during this transition, a brief spell of freezing rain is possible giving icy conditions, mainly over higher ground. Thaw is less likely across the northern half of Scotland, with lying snow remaining through Sunday.



✓ Medium likelihood of low impacts
